Quong Sing, a Chinese laundryman, in business at 508 4 1/2 street southwest, was put in bad humor last night by an accident to a garment on the ironing board in his place of business. A shirt had been burned to a beautiful black. Quong had caused the trouble by allowing a hot iron to rest on the garment while he waited upon a customer. The loss amounted to $1.50.

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

MARRIAGE OF MISS CUTTS AND MR. TAYLOR.

Representatives of Two Historic Families Married—Other Weddings—Personal Notes.

The first of the autumn weddings was the interesting ceremony which united, this afternoon, Miss Mary Elizabeth Cutts, daughter of the late Colonel James Madison Cutts, and Mr. Benjamin Ogilvie Taylor, of Westmoreland, Va. It took place at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Cutts, mother of the bride, 1819 G street, with relatives and intimate friends as witnesses. Rev. William Taylor Snyder, a cousin of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony. There were no attendants. The entire lower floor was decorated with palms, foliage, plants and flowers. The bride was beautifully gowned in white crepe de chine, made over taffeta, and trimmed with point lace, an heirloom in the family. A diamond crescent, the gift of the groom, was the only ornament. Mrs. George Edward Trailes, a cousin of the bride, played the wedding marches on the piano. The bride received a great number of valuable gifts, among them being numerous fine pieces of cut glass, silver and jewelry. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left later this afternoon for Westmoreland, Va., to visit the relatives of the groom, and will return to this city about October 1 to reside. Among the out-of-town relatives who were present at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Tilghman Taylor, Mr. Arthur Douglas Cutts, Mr. Harold Cutts and Mrs. James Madison Cutts, mother of the bride, received the guests, and her hospitable duties were shared by her sons, Mr. Richard Cutts referred to above. The latter built the house on Lafayette square, now the Cosmos Club, where Dolly Madison spent her declining years. Her daughter was the wife of Stephen A. Douglas and then of Gen. Williams, and was the "Adele Cutts" whose beauty and grace had a national fame. She died a few years ago in this city.

A quiet but pretty home wedding took place last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Robinson, 1408 Corcoran street northwest, when Miss Virginia G. Starna became the bride of Mr. Robert S. Billups. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. L. Hubbard, pastor of McKendree M. E. Church. The bride, who is a native of Baltimore, is a stately blonde and looked charming in a dress of white or-gandy. She carried a bouquet of bride roses. Her going-away gown was of taffeta silk, with Persian trimming. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Billups will leave for an extended tour of the western states, where Mr. Billups goes to collect statistics for the government.

Franklin Faxon for the marriage of their daughter, Patty Earle, to Mr. Warren Greene Ogden of the city, at the First Unitarian Church, Quincy, Mass., Wednesday, September 7, at 12:30. Owing to the recent sudden death of the bride's grandmother, the festivities planned for dates prior to the wedding have been canceled and the number invited to the wedding breakfast has been limited to relatives and closest friends. At home cards are enclosed for after December 1, at 1324 19th street, this city.

Among the interesting events that occurred at St. George's Island in August was the visit of Mr. M. H. Kline of Washington, who came from this city with his wife in a little Indian canoe, weighing but sixty pounds, such as is used on the waters of the Andromeda and Maine, steered by a paddle and wafted by a little sail in the bow. The long river journey, as well as the return on the city, was made without accident, and the visit of the party to the Potomac Hotel made them the center of interest for all the time they stayed.

Miss Kate Miller Latham, daughter of the late Judge C. P. Latham of Lynchburg, Va., and Mr. John B. Jeffries, Jr., of New York were married at the home of the bride's aunts, Misses Ella and S. E. Latham, yesterday by Rev. William F. Taylor. The bride wore a dark blue cloth tailor suit and a large hat.
